Manual

prepared in accordance with Section 51 of

The Promotion of Access to Information Act

2/2000
("the Act")

Manual on Access to Information Act No.2 of 2000

1. Introduction

The Promotion of Access to Information Act No 2 of 2000 was enacted to give effect to the constitutional right of access to any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights as well as to provide for matters connected therewith.

This manual is to assist potential requesters as to the procedure to be followed when requesting access to information from A G JENKINS ATTORNEYS in terms of the Act.

This manual may be amended from time to time and any new versions of the manual will be made public.

2. Purpose of the Manual

This manual is intended to foster and proclaim the commitment OF A G JENKINS ATTORNEYS to fostering a culture of transparency and accountability within the organisation as a whole, by giving effect to the right to access information that is required for the exercise or protection of any right and to actively promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect their rights.

In order to promote the effective governance of all private A G JENKINS ATTORNEYS recognises the fundamental requirement that all the people of South Africa be empowered and educated to understand their rights in terms of this Act in order for them to exercise their rights in relation to all institutions, whether those institutions are of a private or public nature.

In following the example set out in terms of Section 36 of the Constitution of South Africa (Act 108 of 1996), Section 9 of the Act recognises that such right to access information cannot be unlimited and should be subject to justifiable limitations.

3. DEFINITIONS

Agj

Manual on Access to Information Act No.2 of 2000

- Specify a postal address or fax number of the requester;
- Identify the right the requester is seeking to exercise or protect and provide an explanation of why the requested record is required for the exercise or protection of that right;
- If the requester, in addition to a written reply, intends to be informed of the decision on the request in any other manner, state that manner and the necessary particulars to be so informed;
- If the request is made on behalf of another person, submit proof of the capacity in which the requester is making the request, to the reasonable satisfaction of the organisation.

D. Prescribed Fees

On request of access to information, the Information Officer, or duly authorised person, will by notice require the requester, other than a personal requester, to pay the prescribed fee as set out below in paragraph C1.1 before processing the request.

If the search for the record has been made and the preparation of the record for disclosure, including arrangement to make it available in the requested form, requires more than the hours prescribed in the regulations for this purpose, the authorised person shall notify the requester to pay as a deposit the prescribed portion of the access fee.

A requester, whose request for access has been granted, must pay an access fee for reproduction and for search and preparation, and for any time reasonably required in excess of the prescribed hours to search for and prepare the record for disclosure including making arrangement to make it available in the request form.

If a deposit has been paid in respect of a request for access, which is refused, the deposit will be repaid to the requester.

D.1.1 Prescribed Fees

If you require access to records of your personal information, you do not have to pay a request fee.

The following is a breakdown of the fees structure for the purposes of determining the manner in which fees relating to a request for access to a record of a private body as per Part III of Regulation 187 published in the Government Gazette on the 15 February 2002:

F. REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO A REQUESTER UPON REFUSAL OF ACCESS

a) Internal remedies:

The organisation does not have any internal appeal procedures that may be followed after a request to access information has been refused. As such, the decision made by the information officer is final, and requestors will have to exercise such external remedies at their disposal if the request for information is refused and the requestor is not satisfied with the answer supplied by the information officer.

b) External remedies:

A requester that is dissatisfied with an information officer's refusal to disclose information, may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to an competent Court for relief.

Likewise, a third party that is dissatisfied with an information officer's decision not to grant a request for information, may within 30 days of notification of the decision, apply to a competent Court for relief.

For purposes of the Act, the Courts that have jurisdiction over these applications are the Constitutional Court, the High Court or another court with similar status.

G. REQUEST PROCEDURE

- The requester must comply with all the procedural requirements contained in the Act relating to the request for access to a record.
- The requester must complete the prescribed form enclosed herewith in ANNEXURE 1 and submit same as well as payment of a request fee (if applicable) and a deposit, where a request is made for access to information relating to a third party, to the Information Officer at the postal or physical address, fax number or electronic mail address as stated in paragraphs A.1.2 above.
- The prescribed form must be completed with enough particularity to at least enable the Information Officer to identify the following:
 - The record or records required by the requester;
 - The identity of the requester and such person acting on behalf of the requester where applicable;
 - What form of access is required, if the request is granted;
 - The telephone number, postal address or fax number of the requester (within the Republic of South Africa).
